WARNING & SAFETY INFORMATION

WARNING: STRONG MAGNETIC FIELD!
• This device contains a strong rare earth magnet.

- Maintain a safe distance of at least 12" (30 cm) from pacemakers, implantable cardioverter defibrillators (ICDs), and other medical implants.
- May interfere with electronic devices such as credit cards and magnetic storage media.
- Maintain a safe distance of at least 12" (30 cm) from such devices.
- Locates ferrous metal nails, screws, and other surface mounted magnetic materials which may be fastened to wood or metal studs.
- Use caution when nailing, cutting, or drilling in walls, floors, and ceilings and whenever live AC wiring is present. Locate items BEFORE penetrating the surface, and use other information including construction plans, standard stud-spacing practices, and visible points of entry of pipes and wiring into walls.
- DO NOT RELY EXCLUSIVELY ON THE TOOL TO LOCATE STUDS AND OTHER ITEMS WHICH MAY BE BEHIND A SCANNED SURFACE.
- Recommended for interior use only.

HOW TO USE

- 1. Place tool flat against the wall. Slide in a wide zig-zag motion until it sticks onto the first nail or screw. Press Easy-Mark button to mark the spot.
 - 2. Slide the tool vertically. It should stick on more fasteners above and below. Mark each spot.
 - 3. Verify fastener pattern. Screws on wall surfaces are typically no more than 16" (40 cm) apart, on center, except near corners and edges. If a fastener or spacing seems irregular, find another vertical line. Avoid areas with many closely spaced nails or screws.
 - 4. Repeat the process. Confirm standard stud spacing to the left and right, with consistent vertical columns at these intervals.
- 5. For straight project installation, use the rotating bubble level.

HOW TO ATTACH WRIST LANYARD

- 1. Pinch the thin loop of the lanyard and thread it through the lanyard hole on the tool.
 - 2. Pass the lanyard through the thin loop and pull tight to secure.
